Official Report of a Bloody Battle at Glencoe.

BRITISH GENERAL WOUNDED

And Heavy Losses Sustained by His Men in the Attack.

BOERS ARE FINALLY REPULSED.

During the Night the Burglers Planted Cannons on a Hill Overlooking the English Camp But Could Not Maintain Their Position.

London, Oct. 20.—The war office has received the following: official dispatch via Ladysmith: from Glencoe: "We were attacked at daylight by a force roughly estimated at 4,000. They had placed four or five guns in position on a hill 400 yards east of our camp and they fired plugged shells. Their artillery did no damage. Our infantry formed for attack and we got our guns into position. After the position of the enemy had been shell-ed our infantry advanced to the attack and after a hard fight, lasting until 1:30 p.m., an almost inaccessible position was taken, the enemy retiring eastward. All the Boer guns have been captured. We can see our soldiers at the top of the hill. Our cavalry and artillery are still out. General Symons is severely wounded. Our losses are heavy. They will be telegraphed as soon as possible."

London, Oct. 20.—It was reported in the house of commons that the British had captured 17 guns at Glencoe and that the cavalry were still pursuing the fleeing burghers.

London, Oct. 20.—A dispatch from Glencoe Camp says that Sir William Symons was wounded in the stomach and that General Yule has assumed command.

Ladysmith, Oct. 20.—A dispatch from Glencoe says that a Boer gun has been captured and that the Devonshire riflemen are now engaging the Boers.

London, Oct. 20.—A special dispatch dated Glencoe announced that the Boer position had been captured after heavy fighting during which five guns were taken.

The war office during the morning received a report that General Symons was wounded during the engagement at Glencoe.

"Lieutenant Galway of the National Carbineers is missing and Trooper Spencer of the Natal Carbineers was slightly wounded."

"I move my camp into a position I have selected with the object of covering the town of Ladysmith and I hoped that the Boers might have been sufficiently near me to strike a blow. However, the enemy seems to have retired west, our patrols getting in touch nowhere except with a comparatively small body at Bester's station."

"Communication with Glencoe Junction was cut off at Elandslaagte, where they captured a goods train. A Boer train is advancing over Beggar's Neck. Communication by telegraph is still open via Greytown."

Later the war office received the appended dispatch from Ladysmith: "The following advices from Glencoe came just at hand: 'The King's Royal Rifles and the Dublin Fusiliers are attacking a hill occupied by Boer artillery. They are within 300 yards of the position and are advancing under cover of our artillery at about 2,000 yards' range. Scouts report that 9,000 Boers are advancing from Hatting-spruit. The Fifteenth battery and the Leicester regiment have gone to meet them."

The reported Boer attack on the British position at Glencoe was confirmed and, thanks to the promptitude of the war office in publishing the official dispatches from Sir George Stewart, White, the public has been enabled to discriminate between the actualities and the unreliable rumors that have flooded the papers.

It appears that during the night the Boer artillery occupied a hill commanding the British camp and began dropping shells at daybreak in the direction of the British forces.

Battery of Boers Captured.

The latter under General Sir William Penni Symons promptly accepted the challenge and moved to meet the invaders under cover of the British artillery, which appears to have been worked with such advantage as to quickly silence the enemy's batteries enabling the infantry to carry the Boer position with a rush, in which the Dublin Fusiliers and the King's Royal Rifles are said to have specially distinguished themselves, the Fusiliers capturing the first guns of the enemy taken in the present campaign.

Unfortunately for the British, they are apparently strong enough to withstand a Boer force double their own. But in view of the fact that the railway was cut at Elandslaagte, evidently in anticipation of the present attack it would have been impossible to send reinforcements quickly from Ladysmith.

General Symonds seems to have been in the thick of the fight as might have been expected. Confirmation of the report that he was wounded has been received, but just how seriously is not yet known here.

Disappointed in Chamberlain.

New York, Oct. 20.—A dispatch from London says: "Chamberlain's defense of his policy and diplomacy in the house of commons was disappointing in every aspect. He opened with a fierce personal attack on Philip Stanhope, who had challenged him to answer Stead's charges and was called to order by the speaker for implying that Stanhope was dishonest. Mr. Chamberlain claimed that the Jameson raid chapter was closed by the findings of the parliamentary inquiry. This evasion excited loud protest from the opposition and gained increased credence for Mr. Stead's accusation that Mr. Chamberlain was an accomplice in the raid. Mr. Stanhope also challenged Mr. Chamberlain to produce a letter written to Mr. Chamberlain before the Jameson raid inquiry by Mr. Hawkesley, the secretary of the British South Africa company. Mr. Chamberlain refused to admit the letter to Mr. Stanhope, but offered, if he should be asked to do so, to show it to Harcourt and Bannerman who, however, were both parties to the hushed up raid inquiry."

Stringency in Gold.

London, Oct. 20.—The London manager of the Bank of South African Republic made the following statement: "When one considers the average weekly gold exports from the Transvaal to England, which you may estimate at £400,000, to say nothing of a considerable amount that goes weekly to the continent, it is impossible to believe that the complete cessation of such a large amount will not create some stringency, especially as the only way to meet the increased British expenditures in South Africa is to ship out gold." These conditions are keenly realized by the larger financial houses and throughout the week the stock exchange has been in a state of anxiety regarding the measures the government will adopt to raise the necessary funds."

Scots Guards Inspected.

London, Oct. 20.—The Duke of Connaught, accompanied by the duchess and his daughters, inspected the Scots Guards at Chelsea barracks, after which he addressed the men on behalf of her majesty, congratulating them upon their splendid appearance and wishing them a short campaign and a safe return to England. Colonel Arthur Paget replied and called for cheers for her majesty and for the Duke and Duchess of Connaught.

Steyn Call to Arms.

Cape Town, Oct. 20.—Advices from the Orange Free State announce that President Steyn has issued another proclamation calling on the burghers to a man to take arms and to fight against an unscrupulous enemy. "We are fighting a just war," said the proclamation, "and can not be defeated, as God is on our side."

Quickly Mobilized.

London, Oct. 20.—The mobilization is practically completed and it is said that more than 90 per cent of the fresh men have rejoined the recruits. This is considered eminently satisfactory. The speed at which the army corps has been gotten together has excited the admiration of the German headquarters staff.

WILL STAY IN AMERICA

Trophy of Yacht Contest Again Remains on This Side of Ocean.

COLUMBIA WINS A FINE RACE

In the Prettiest Struggle of the Series the Yankee Boat Outruns the Shamrock, Crossing Line Six Minutes Ahead.

New York, Oct. 20.—In a strong breeze the Columbia beat the challenging yacht, the Shamrock, in the third of the final series for the America's cup and the America's cup remains in the United States. As in the first race, the American boat won from the challenger by a large margin over the same course, a run of 15 miles to leeward and a beat home.

It was such a breeze as Sir Thomas Lipton has been praying for, from 18 to 20 knots an hour with only a little lightening just before the yachts reached the outer mark. But the wind freshened again and the beat home was made with rails awash and with bellying sails.

The start was a beautiful one and the race to the outer mark a battle royal. Captain Hogarth took Shamrock across the line first, beating the Columbia over by a minute and more.

Spinnakers were broken out and during the first minutes of the contest the Columbia's, which was much the larger, gave the American boat a lot of trouble. Gradually, however, the spinnaker was better handled, and with it drawing well, Columbia managed to regain her lost ground.

The official time of the start was as follows: Shamrock, 11:00:34; Columbia, 11:01:35. The Shamrock made good use of her minute gain and was many boat lengths ahead before the defender got over the line. She seemed to improve this lead for a time, but when the defender's spinnaker began to draw properly the latter slowly but surely moved up on the challenger.

The Columbia turned the outer stake two minutes ahead of the Shamrock and at the finish she beat the Shamrock six minutes and 18 seconds, corrected time.

To Test Wireless Telegraphy.

New York, Oct. 20.—The navy department proposes to utilize the New York and Massachusetts in exhaustive tests of Marconi's wireless telegraphy as adapted to naval uses. Orders have been sent to the New York navy yard to furnish long wooden spars for the experiments to the two vessels at the anchorage in the North river and it is the expectation that the apparatus will be installed next week. According to this stipulation made by Marconi, wooden spars will extend the signal masts of each ship to a height of 150 feet above the water. No metal rigging is admissible within 15 feet of the top. Near the head of each mast a yard will be lashed like a lateen rig spar to one of which there will be a rope to adjust the slant of the yard, the other end carrying the apparatus. Admiral Farquhar will take the two ships to sea with Marconi as his guest on the flagship New York. The two vessels will then cruise apart in wide circles for at least a week and determine the trustworthiness of the system under varying conditions of weather and distances.

Potter's Divorce Views Approved.

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The New York Presbyterian Synod approved Bishop Potter's stand on the divorce question by the adoption of the following resolution: "The synod of New York recognizing with sorrow and alarm and increasing tendency toward a lower regard for the sacredness of the marriage tie, hereby enjoins upon all its ministers to absolutely refuse to marry divorced persons except it is the innocent party under a divorce granted for reasons fully recognized in the New Testament and further urges upon all its ministers, church officers and members to use all possible proper means to cultivate a high moral and religious sentiment on this subject in all our communities."

Americans at San Isidro.

Manilla, Oct. 20.—General Young, advance guard of General Lawton's column has entered San Isidro. The American loss was one killed and three wounded. The heaviest resistance met with was at San Fernando where the enemy destroyed a bridge. General Pio Del Pilar arrived from San Miguel and personally commanded the Filipinos. He and the bulk of the enemy retreated up the river. One Spaniard and 15 insurgents were captured. The loss of the enemy is not known. The townspeople appear to be friendly.

ACCEPTS CONDITIONS.

President Andrade of Venezuela Agrees to Leave the Country.

Caracas, Venezuela, Oct. 20.—The crisis is virtually over. General Andrade, the president, has accepted the conditions proposed by the insurgent commander, General Cipriano Castro, and will go abroad, the presidency devolving upon the vice president, General Castro will enter Caracas peacefully Saturday, thus avoiding bloodshed and a dictatorship. The final conference between General Castro and Senor Matos, the special envoy of General Andrade, was held Thursday. General Castro proposes that a popular convention should be assembled in 20 days for the election of a new president and the addition of a new legislation under which arrangement he would succeed to the presidency. The general feeling here is that a way is open for the dignified withdrawal of General Andrade.

Official Messages.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The following dispatch has been received from Minister Loomis, dated at Caracas: "The president at Venezuela left Caracas at daylight with 800 men for LaGuayra. Has not resigned. Some disorder in Caracas. Heavy dynamite bomb exploded in the house of Matos, former minister of finance."

The following has been received at the navy department from Commander Hemphill of the Detroit: "Andrade has fled, going towards La Guayra with 800 men. He has not resigned the presidency. The vice president, who holds authority during the president's absence from the capital, has telegraphed Castro to enter Caracas. No disorder here or in Caracas thus far."

Court-martial Sustained.

New York, Oct. 20.—Judge Lacombe in the United States circuit court handed down a decision dismissing the writ of habeas corpus in the case of Former Captain Oberlin M. Carter, who is under sentence of five years' imprisonment for conspiracy to defraud the government in contracts. The decision was given in a lengthy opinion which upholds the findings of the court-martial.

To Help the Jewelers.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor at its session voted that the federation financially assist the jewelers of New York, New ark and Providence, with a view to the more thorough organization of the trade and to be helpful in every way to secure a recognition of the union, as well as a reduction in the hours of daily labor.

Bad Men Appointed.

Havana, Oct. 20.—General Ludlow, military governor of Havana, has written to General Brooke regarding the appointment of many criminals and men under police surveillance as census enumerators in Havana. Neither Governor General Brooke nor General Ludlow is able to interfere with the census, as it is controlled by the Washington government.

Negro Soldiers and Police.

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 20.—Friction between the Laredo police and the negro soldiers at Fort McIntosh resulted in a street riot. A Mexican named Junez received a bullet through the shoulder, William Stone was badly beaten with clubbed rifles, and at least a hundred shots from the army rifles and pistols were fired by the rioting negroes.

Tragedy at a Dance.

Richmond, Ky., Oct. 20.—John and James Faulks and a young daughter of James Sparks were killed outright and others were wounded at a general fight at a country dance given by John Hoover at Drip Rock in Estell county. The participants in the fight were said to be drunk.

Disease on Its Last Legs.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 20.—The new cases of yellow fever number seven. No deaths have been reported. The fever is regarded as on its last legs, and the physicians will discontinue daily reports unless the situation should become worse.

The Weather.

THREE REASONS GIVEN

By Hon. W. J. Bryan For Visiting Ohio Voters at This Time.

INCIDENTS OF FLYING TRIP.

The Noted Orator Makes an Appeal to Voters of Northwestern Counties to Vote For John R. McLean This Fall.

Napoleon, O., Oct. 20.—The Bryan-McLean special train left Defiance at 8 a. m.

The first stop was at Napoleon, Henry county. Carriages and a large crowd were at the depot and escorted the visiting party to the courthouse, in front of which a stand had been erected. Congressman D. D. Donovan presided and introduced Mr. McLean, who, in a few words, introduced Mr. Bryan, as the next nominee of the Democratic party for president.

"I am glad to speak to the people of this county," said Mr. Bryan.

"It is a small county, but what you lack in quantity you make up in quality. I understand one-third of the people of this county are Republicans and I feel so bad that any one should be a Republican that I come here to rescue the one-third. In 1896 you gave something like 1,700 majority for the Democratic ticket out of a total of less than 5,000. The Republican policy is so bad that there is not a reasonable excuse for the minority among you. There is no excuse for the one-third."

Mr. Bryan related the story of the young medical student who would bleed every patient regardless of the disease and when the patient became so weak he could stand it no longer, the student said he would prop him up in bed and bleed him again.

"And that is the way of the Republican party," continued the speaker. "It had bled you on the money question, the tax question and every other question which has come before the country. The time has come when the farmer, the plain laboring men can not afford to throw his influence on the side of the Republican party. I believe in an income tax and I believe it the most just of all taxes."

"Why? Because it measures the assessment by the returns. If your income rises, your taxes increase, and if your income declines your taxes decline. The proposition is so fair to my mind that I do not see how any fair man can oppose it. The platform of 1896 favored it and your Zanesville platform reaffirmed the 1896 platform."

Mr. Bryan then discussed silver, the trusts and imperialism.

Bryan at Ottawa.

Ottawa there was a large and demonstrative crowd, the people coming from the surrounding country for miles and all were lined up in an orderly manner as an escort to the courthouse, several bands being interspersed.

Hon. John P. Bailey presided and introduced Mr. Bryan and Mr. McLean. Mr. Bryan apologized for using a skull cap, when one of the crowd yelled out "Never mind, your head is all right," and a moment later, when the platform gave evidence of falling, Mr. Bryan observed: "That shows how dangerous it is to be on any other than the Chicago platform, a platform that never breaks down and is stronger now than when it was written."

Mr. Bryan had three reasons for visiting people at this time, first, to thank the people for the large votes given him in 1896; second, where the vote was small, to do some missionary work, and third, where the vote of the counties was close, to hold meetings with the object of increasing the vote of his party. (A voice—"You'll get them all in 1900.")

"Now, my friends," said Mr. Bryan. "I will trade votes in 1900 for votes this fall. If you'll give us a large vote this fall I'll be satisfied. (A voice—"That means McLean.")

"Yes sir, that means McLean and everybody else. The money question and the anti-option bill were then handled by Mr. Bryan.

Resulted in Death.

Vienna, Oct. 20.—Colonel Schneider, the former Australian military attaché at Paris, whose name has been prominently connected with the alleged treason of former Captain Alfred Dreyfus of the French army and who, it is generally understood, fought a duel about Oct. 13 with Captain Cuignet of the French army as a result of statements made by the captain at the Rennes court-martial, is dead.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair and warmer Saturday and Sunday; easterly winds.

Governor Bradley spoke to about 4,000 people at Louisville Thursday night. He devoted most of his time to a defense of his administration of State affairs, closing with an appeal to Republicans to support "Taylor and the whole Republican ticket"—this being his only reference to the Republican nominee for Governor.

AS LONG as the election law remains upon the statute books it is a menace to human liberty. This is no time for dissension among Republicans. It matters not whether wrongs have been inflicted or injuries received. He who in such an hour would parade his personal grievances is not worthy the name of man.

Thus spoke Governor Bradley in his speech at Louisville. As to the statement about the election law, the Hon. A. P. Humphrey, an anti-Goebel Democrat, doesn't agree with him. The latter says: "There can be no doubt that if our election laws are enforced as they are written elections will be fair and free."

The Governor further says: "This is no time for dissension among Republicans." By the same argument "this is no time for dissension among Democrats." The Brownites should take Governor Bradley's advice and fall in line for Goebel.

ELECTION LAW PENALTIES.

Those who are ranting so much against the present election law persist in claiming that it provides no penalties for those who violate its provisions. Judge A. P. Humphrey, of Louisville, in his review of the law, however, shows that such a claim is utterly without foundation. Here is what he says:

The penalties for violation of the election law are very severe. A voter is punishable if he makes a false oath of disability; or if he attempts to leave the polling room with a ballot in his possession; or if he attempts to have himself illegally registered or registered in two places; or if he votes when he is not qualified to vote; or if he votes more than once; or if he even offers to vote in any precinct except the one in which he resides.

Officers of election are punishable for electioneering on election day or for disclosing to any person the name of any candidate for whom any elector has voted; or for making false returns; or for refusing to give certificates of returns; or for altering, suppressing or destroying the poll-book or return or certificate of an election. There is no interference in the right of the voter; no interference in the right of the challenger and the inspector; no attempt to falsify the result of the election by the officers or any other person that is not denounced as an offense and punished by heavy fine; and, in graver cases, by confinement in the penitentiary. No policeman can shield himself behind an election officer. He has no authority except to keep the peace, and when he goes beyond this and interferes in the conduct of the election or the count he violates the law and is punishable therefor just as any private individual.

GOOD ADVICE.

No Time for Democrats to Magnify Their Differences.

Minor Considerations Should Be Subordinated—Get Together Now for 1900—Strong Plea for Harmony.

[Extract from Address to Democrats by Hon. Boyd Winchester.]

Democratic success in 1900 should be the chief object to engage the interest and effort of every Democrat, and to this end all minor considerations should be subordinated. The loss of Kentucky at this time would have a serious effect upon Democratic prospects for the great contest of next year. There is but one ticket fighting for Republican defeat and Democratic victory in Kentucky—that is the ticket headed by Senator Goebel, and it will receive the support of every Democrat who spurns party fealty merely asserted in words, but in vote violated.

The result in November will not only involve an influence on the Presidential election, but also determine whether the Democrats of Kentucky are willing to surrender the State to a continuance of Republican misrule. Let us at least cherish our State government—it is our home government—at our very door. It is our exclusive handiwork and we make its laws and execute them. Our homes are in the State; we are in daily companionship with it; it is very near to us and let us guard it with the tenderest affection. Our State is a Democratic State, and the responsibility for its government should be kept where the electoral majority, honestly expressed and counted, is known to be. So long as a majority of the people of a State are Democrats, a Democratic State government is the only State government that can justly represent them and the best government that can be demanded for them.

It is a time for Democrats to ascertain wherein they agree rather than to magnify differences. No sane man will be frightened by the hysterical denunciation of the election law, which, throughout the hotly-contested campaign preceding the convention, was put to the front by Senator Goebel, defiantly challenging its discussion, and yet no one amongst the large body of Democrats who were straining every nerve to defeat his nomination accepted his challenge. Manifestly it had not at that time, in spite of having been on the statute books for fifteen months or more and several elections conducted under its provisions, been discovered to be a hydra-headed monster of evil, threatening to destroy Magna Charta, Bill of Rights, Declaration of Independence, with all the muniments of liberty won through centuries of Anglo-Saxon valor.

This law was enacted by a Democratic Legislature over the veto of a Republican Governor; the Democrats of the State, with their attention sharply called to it, did not see proper to send a single delegation to the convention demanding its repeal, and the convention gave it a positive and unanimous approval. If it requires any further legislative action, let it be done by the Democrats and not by the Republicans. It is dangerous to trust "gift-bearing Greeks," for it is almost certain to be a case of:

"The devil was sick—the devil a monk would be. The devil was well—the devil a monk was he."

If the Democratic party is to continue to be a mere loose aggregate of men given more to quarrels amongst themselves than to unite against a common enemy, it cannot expect to maintain its ground against the well-massed forces of Republicanism. The art of putting the right men in the right place has been said to be the first in the science of government; but that of finding places for the discontented is the most difficult. The Democratic party, through the head of its ticket, is being assailed by these discontents with an indiscriminate rapture of abuse, malice in mouth and mud in both hands. The rash and reckless employment of rancorous tongue and slanderous pen is kept busy with charges broad enough, strong enough, blasting enough, and made frequently enough with the hope that some may stick, however foundationless they may be.

Though fallen on such evil days and evil tongues I am confident that the party will bear up and steer right onward, never bating a jot of heart or hope, until it redeems the State and puts it again safely in the Democratic column.

EATING 'EM UP.

Figures Showing How the Trusts Are Destroying the Farmer.

[Standford Journal.]

The way trusts are eating up the farmers and everybody else is shown in the tremendous advance in nearly everything that they have to use. For instance last spring grass blades cost $4 a dozen and grain blades $6. A representative of the trust that now makes them was here last week, and priced these articles at $9.50 and $14 respectively for next season's delivery. This is considerably over 100 per cent. advance, with no reason for it save that the trust has bought up the manufacturing and, having no competition, can make any price they wish. No. 9 wire, the kind the farmers mostly use, has jumped from $1.35 to $3.35, and is still climbing. Nearly everything else has advanced, but there has been no advance in wheat, corn, etc. A Republican administration makes such extortion as is practiced by the trusts possible by permitting them, for the sake of their contributions to their campaign fund, to exist. Hit them a lick every chance you can get. You will have a chance the 7th of November. Embrace it by voting the Democratic ticket from top to bottom.

"A Wise Woman" at Opera House This Afternoon and To-night.

An attraction that merits more than passing notice will be seen at the opera house this afternoon and to-night. It is the company that is presenting Wilfred Clark's comedy, "A Wise Woman." The presentation of Mr. Clarke's comedy in this country is reported to be meeting with the same remarkable success it had in London, and the further fact that it is being used as a medium for the introduction to the public of one of the most promising candidates for stellar honors that has recently asked for public acknowledgment, makes the production doubly interesting. The candidate referred to is Miss Marie Lamour, the charming comedienne, for some seasons past a member of the forces at Daly's Theatre, New York. Miss Lamour is supported by Frederic Murphy and a cast of prominent players. The staging of "A Wise Woman" has been done under the personal supervision of Mr. Clarke, whose wide experience and ability in matters of this kind is a strong assurance is a strong assurance that the most important part of any production has been well done.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Should Be Chosen by Viva Voce Vote, but Election Not Invalidated If by Secret Ballot.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the judgment of the Harrison Circuit Court in the case of the city of Cynthia against the Board of Education of that city.

The city collected from two national banks franchise taxes for 1896 and 1897. One thousand eight hundred and twenty-four dollars collected was for the maintenance of the schools, but the city refused to pay it over. The lower court held that it must do so.

Quite an important point was passed on in the case. The ground of refusal upon the part of the city was that the members of the Board of Education had been elected by secret ballot when the statutes provide that the election shall be by viva voce vote, and that their election was illegal. The Appellate Court holds that where there has been a fair and free election, without contest, even though it be by means of secret ballot, irregularity does not invalidate it.

There is a five franc Glove in Paris, a four shilling Glove in London, a $1.25 Glove everywhere, except here, where it is $1. It's a dollar a pair here because we import it ourselves from Grenoble, the great Glove-making center of the world, thereby saving on each dozen enough to give you a $1.25 Glove for $1 and yet insure a living profit. It isn't enough to say it's the best dollar Glove in the market. When you say "best" you imply rivalry and the Fedora has no rival in the dollar grades and scarcely an equal at $1.25. ### ENDED HIS LIFE.

Mr. James Smith, Formerly of This City, Committed Suicide at Ashland This Morning.

An epidemic of drunkenness broke out on the four trains that passed here Wednesday carrying the Forty-sixth volunteer regiment from Massachusetts to San Francisco. The trains were sidetracked near Cincinnati and drum-head court-martials held, the offenders being sentenced to the Columbus barracks pending further action.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c. and $1. Goebel 'Il Git Ye ef You Don't Watch On'.
(With apologies to Palmer Cox and James Whitcomb Riley.)

Once there was a Brownie, who bolted the nominee,
And he went about the State as sore as he could be;
The bolters heard his speeches—they listened to his wall,
And you could hear 'em whisper this skerry Bogle tale:
"If the nominee is elected, the State is gone, I wot—
To the debbel in a hand-basket—or in an old dog trot;
So you had better vote for Brownie—and help Bill Taylor out—
Or Goebel 'Il git you, ef you don't watch out!

Logical Solutions.

We are frequently asked by our friends why it is that we are always busy, and on many days recently unable to wait on all our customers in anything like reasonable time. We can only answer to all inquiries, viz:

We positively let nothing go out of our house that we are not dead sure will fit and wear satisfactory.

As the large majority of our patrons leave the selection of their wants altogether to us, it puts the responsibility entirely upon our shoulders, therefore laying aside altogether the question of honesty, good business policy prompts us to do the right thing by them. Ninety-nine out of a hundred readers of this know our statement is true.

That our efforts to secure the proper stuff for this fall's trade are appreciated, hundreds of splendidly-dressed men and boys of Maysville, Mason and adjoining counties attest to.

Our patrons tell us that nowhere do they find

He was in Maysville last June and was much pleased with his short visit.

THE recent fire in Dr. Anderson's drug store at Mt. Olivet was started by a mouse. The Advance says: "The fire, it was ascertained, had caught in a small pile of wall paper trimmings. Upon close examination it was found that a mouse had been cremated, the animal evidently having carried a match into the pile and ignited it, and not only made its own funeral pyre, but came near bringing about another serious fire to Mt. Olivet."

THE Court of Appeals has reversed the case of Overley vs. Given, from Fleming County. The matter grew out of the assignment made by Jas. W. Overley in the fall of 1895 to Thos. L. Given. The exemptions due Overley were never paid him by Given but were deposited in the Exchange Bank. February 13, 1896, the Exchange Bank made an assignment and the suit was brought against Given to recover the amount of the exemptions, but the Circuit Court decided in favor of Given and this decision is now reversed and a new trial ordered.

River News.

The Barrett Boat Building Company of Levanna launched five barges a few days ago which go to Nashville and Memphis for government use.

Captain W. H. McKinley, from Fairmont, W. Va., says much coal is there for shipment to Cincinnati, the railroads being unable to supply the trade.

There are 25,000,000 bushels of coal at Pittsburg and vicinity awaiting shipment south on the first water. The greater part of this coal is in boats, so that a ten foot stage will be necessary to ship it.

Secretary of State Dawson, of West Virginia, issued a charter Friday to the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and Louisville Transportation Company, of Pittsburg. Capital, $75,000. Lee R. Brooks, of Cincinnati, is in the company.

Boats are laid up at Cincinnati in the following order: Hudson, New South, City of Louisville and Alice Brown are lying in a bunch just above the Queen City marine ways. The Keystone State is alone just below the ways, and the Queen City, Island Queen, Crown Hill, Oneida, City of Cincinnati, Nisbet, Bonanza and Tacoma are in a string from Crane's lower mill to the Queen City coal harbor.

Canton, Miss., Oct. 20.—A posse captured Joe Leflore, a negro who confessed that he and Bob Anderson went to the house of J. H. Gambrell at St. Annes, Miss., tied Gambrell's wife and four children together, piled a feather mattress on them, poured oil on the pile, cremated the family and robbed the house. Leflore was burned at the stake before many citizens. Bob Anderson was caught and partly burned, but the fire was extinguished before he was dead because information which may clear him was received.

Met at Seattle.
Seattle, Wash., Oct. 20.—The national convention of the W. C. T. U. met here. For several days trainloads of delegates from all parts of the country have been arriving and when the convention was called to order there was a large attendance. The delegates were slow in assembling and it was nearly noon before they arrived at the convention hall.

PITHY POLITICAL POINTS.

Mr. Bryan didn't give the bolting faction much comfort.

No wonder the Brown men didn't wish Mr. Bryan to come to the State.

The friends of Brown would rather the old boy had crossed at Cairo than Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Bryan didn't give out any uncertain sound as to the duty of true Democrats while in Kentucky.

W. J. Bryan is attracting more attention and filling more of the public eye to-day than President McKinley. This is what hurts them.

Mr. Brown, in his speech at Somerset, must have been reminded of the somersault that he himself pitched lately.

Give us the straight up and down man that sticks to his church, his party and his friends and is not ready at all times to desert any of them for a little real or fanciful preferment or gain.

What Mr. Carlisle may say won't cut much figure with Kentucky Democracy, as he betrayed the party long since and showed he was incapable of gratitude to those who had honored him time and again.

If we had the millions of Hotty Greene or Russell Sage we wouldn't care who was President or whether there were any at all; but so long as we haven't, we are aware that we, along with all others in this country, haven't any business training with that crowd.

There hasn't anything happened as yet to make our way clear in abandoning the principles and traditions of Democracy and embrace those that we have all along been aligned against; and if we had ever been honored with a trust or office at the party's hands we should have been farther still from such a step.

A childless home is a cheerless home. The maternal instinct exists in every woman, and when it is ungratified she is deprived of much of the happiness of life. It often happens that childlessness is due to some cause which can be removed, and often is removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The vigor and vitality which this remedy imparts to the delicate womanly organs, puts them in a condition of normal health, the lack of which is often the sole obstruction to maternity. Every woman should read Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages and 700 illustrations. It is sent entirely free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper bound volume, or 31 stamps for cloth covered. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

"My Friend From India."

It has always been considered fatal to shift a play from one theater to another during the height of its success, but in case of "My Friend From India" all traditions have been shattered. It was not only shifted, but to a house that demanded higher price for admission. It was first seen in New York at the Bijou Theatre, where the best seats are $1.50, and went to Hoyt's, where the entire lower floor is held at $2. This even did not deter its business in the least, for when the people are given what they want, any reasonable price is no object. The prices will, however, not be advanced on its engagement in this city.

At Washington Opera House Thursday evening, October 26th.
